Luna's Red Seeds

Ammy Kudo and Mel Darmawan

Luna loves colorful seeds.

There are lots of red seeds in the can.
Shake. Shake. Shake.
Uh-oh! The red seeds spill.
Bounce. Bounce. Bounce.

The special red seeds are from Grandma.
Luna wants more!

Right away, she plants the seeds.
Someday they will grow.

Everyday, she waters the seeds.
Here and there.

Oh, why aren't they growing yet?

Yay, this one has sprouted already.

Oh no, this one is rotten.

And this one is too dry.

Luna has to wait a little longer.
One day the seed will turn into a big tree and ...

... it will grow more
and more red seeds.

Hey, did you know?

Mung beans

Mung beans are green.
They are quite large and round.
When spilled, they scatter all around.

Saga seeds

Saga seeds are red.
They are round, flat, and hard.
Although they are small, they'll grow into a big, lush tree.

Soybeans

Soy beans are white.
They are quite large and round.
When spilled, they roll all over the ground.

Sapodilla seeds

Sapodilla seeds are brown.
They are oval and flat.
When spilled, they scatter everywhere.

A Message to Our Readers
